Open Programmable Secure 5G (OPS-5G)
FON:
HR001120S0026

AGENCY:
Defense Advanced Research Projects Agency (DARPA), Department of Defense (Defense), Information Innovation Office (I2O)

ITEM:
Notice seeking proposals to create open source software and systems enabling secure 5G and follow-on mobile networks. OPS-5G creates capabilities to address feature velocity in open source software, a trillion-node Botnet of Things (BoT), network slicing on suspect gear and adaptive adversaries operating at scale. The long-term objective is a US-friendly ecosystem.

ACTION:
Proposals are due March 17, 2020. Multiple awards expected.

Reproducible Cells and Organoids via Directed Differentiation Encoding

FON:
20-541

AGENCY:
Directorate for Engineering (ENG), National Science Foundation (NSF), Division of Chemical, Bioengineering, Environmental and Transport Systems (CBET)

ITEM:
Notice seeking proposals that elucidate mechanisms of, and develop strategies to, direct the differentiation of undifferentiated cells into mature, functional cells or organoids. Projects responsive to this solicitation must aim to establish a robust and reproducible set of differentiation design rules, predictive models, real-time sensing, control, and quality assurance methods, and integrate them into a workable differentiation strategy.

Wideband Adaptive RF Protection (WARP)

FON:
HR001120S0027

AGENCY:
Defense Advanced Research Projects Agency (DARPA), Department of Defense (Defense)

ITEM:
Notice seeking innovative proposals to develop wideband, adaptive RF filters and cancellers that selectively attenuate interference and protect wideband digital radios from saturation. When exposed to interference/self-interference, the filters and cancellers will automatically sense and adapt to the electromagnetic environment through the intelligent control of its adaptive hardware. WARP will ultimately enable the use of wideband software defined radios in congested and contested environments.
ACTION:
Required abstracts are due March 9, 2020. Multiple awards expected.
